

Gifts
Our hyperspecific holiday shopping guide

MUGS, OR WORKS OF ART? p. 22

WHAT TO GIVE COCKTAIL LOVERS p. 23

A PERSONAL PASSIONATE
Wish List
FROM EA STAFFERS

12" mortar $30; wooden pestle $9. korin.com

Go Big or Go Home
Real talk: Most mortars and pestles may as well be decorations. Because if you're the kind of ambitious home cook who actually fantasizes about fragrant, lovingly pounded curry pastes and Alice Waters-approved aiolis, you're going to need something a whole lot bigger than that dinky marble pill crusher gathering dust on your counter. And this 12-inch ceramic workhorse from Korin is The One. It's sturdy yet lightweight with grooved interior walls for efficient grinding, and it's capacious enough that you won't send peppercorns flying all over the kitchen when you use it. And if you don't end up using it as often as you think, it makes a pretty fruit bowl too.

AMIEL STANEK, SENIOR EDITOR

Go Big or Go Home

Real talk: Most mortars and pestles may as well be decorations. Because if you're the kind of ambitious home cook who actually fantasizes about fragrant, lovingly pounded curry pastes and Alice Waters-approved aiolis, you're going to need something a whole lot bigger than that dinky marble pill crusher gathering dust on your counter. And this 12-inch ceramic workhorse from Korin is The One. It's sturdy yet lightweight with grooved interior walls for efficient grinding, and it's capacious enough that you won't send peppercorns flying all over the kitchen when you use it. And if you don't end up using it as often as you think, it makes a pretty fruit bowl too.

AMIEL STANEK, SENIOR EDITOR

